Martial Law Is Declared By Governor

Five Wounded, Eleven Jailed In Indiana Strike Battle

ALEXANDRIA, Ind. (UP)—National guardsmen entered United Automobile Workers headquarters here today to investigate "a supply of ammunition" they understood was cached there. Civilians were ordered away from the building.

ANDERSON, Ind. (UP)—National guard troops clamped martial law over Anderson today as officials sought to repel a mass invasion of 700 men reported on their way to take sides in a feud between union and non-union forces.

At least five men were wounded—two serious—in the first outbreak of violence in a long quarrel based on attempts of the United Automobile Workers union to organize two General Motors subsidiary plants.

Eleven men were in jail. Assistant Police Chief Paul Robinson said he was informed that "35 to 40 cars with five men in each of them" had reached this vicinity from Flint, Michigan. Nearly 500 more are en route from Detroit, he said.

The shooting occurred during a brawl over attempts to enter the Gold Band cafe, near the Guide Lamp Co. The cafe had been closed for the evening. The men broke windows with bricks and entered. Shot guns roared.

The invaders pounded on the glass door of the cafe, demanded to see Everett Roberts who, police said, recently was involved in a fist fight with an Anderson union worker.

Bartender Emory Shipley told the men they could not enter. They smashed the door and shouldered through the doorway. Shipley lifted a shotgun from behind his bar and fired.

Police arrived in time to arrest the entire group and rush five of them to St. John's hospital. Norris Heaton and John Rose, both from Flint, were in serious condition. Three others received single pellets in their arms and legs, and were returned to police custody.

Shipley was questioned and released, when he explained he fired to defend his property against illegal entry.

Eight other men were arrested. Out of the 11 prisoners, six were from Flint, violence center of the recent General Motors strike.

GRIGGS GIVEN PRISON TERM FOR BURGLARY

A. O. Griggs of Diamond Springs, found guilty Tuesday in Superior Court on two counts of burglary in the second degree, was sentenced Saturday morning by Judge George H. Thompson to Folsom prison.

Imposing the "term provided by law" for each count (one to 14 years) the court ordered that the sentences may run concurrently.

Griggs was convicted of burglary in connection with the theft of fur pelts from Cleo Polley.

He had admitted to prior convictions.

William C. Hooper Buried At Hayward

William C. Hooper, 59, formerly a resident of this county in the employ of the Pacific Gas & Electric Company, died on Tuesday of this week at Hayward and was laid at final rest at that city on Thursday.

Mr. Hooper was a native of Missouri and was employed by the Western States Gas & Electric Company and later by the Pacific Gas & Electric Company from about 1917 until about 1922, his retirement resulting from injury while at work.

He is survived by two sisters living in Washington and by his wife, Mrs. Mabel Hooper, of 27427 Niles Road, Hayward.

COLD WAVE IS DUE IN STATE

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—The U. S. weather bureau today forecast rains and gales on coastal regions and Northern and Southern California with skies generally clearing tomorrow.

186 "Fellers" Rub Elbows At Fathers', Sons' Dinner Marking Scout Anniversary

Court Of Honor Advances Boys In Scoutcraft And Pays Tribute To Civic Service Of Community Leaders

One hundred eighty-six "boys" whose ages varied from four years to almost four score years, rubbed elbows at the Federated Church Friday night in what has been termed by many the most successful Fathers' and Sons' dinner in recent years.

The occasion celebrated the 27th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America, the 20th birthday of Scouting in this county, and carried out the local tradition of a Fathers' and Sons' get-together every year.

After dinner there was a Boy Scout Court of Honor in the church auditorium, presided over as judge advocate by Judge George H. Thompson, of the Superior Court.

This was followed by an address by Walter F. Dexter, state superintendent of public instruction, who attended the dinner at the invitation of Scout Committeeman Thomas Maul.

The dinner, which was praised by all of the "boys," was prepared and served by a committee of ladies of the church and included vegetable salad, salmon loaf, macaroni and cheese, garden peas and rolls, all in large quantity, and those with an eye to such things left room for Boston cream pie.

In addition there was coffee and milk. Dr. Lester B. Rantz opened the affairs of the evening as all stood behind their chairs at the tables, with a brief word of greeting following which Rev. Morehouse spoke the invocation.

As the dinner neared the dessert stage, Dr. Rantz called upon Mr. Maul who presented his two distinguished guests of the evening, Judge Thompson and Dr. Dexter.

James A. Irving had the distinction of being present with two sets of twins. They were the Ellis boys and the Davis boys. Unfortunately, Mr. Irving had car trouble enroute to the meeting and arrived late. All gained seats but were not able to sit together.

Members of the Hangtown Wranglers gave several numbers in the banquet room before all recessed with a vote of thanks to the ladies for the dinner, and reconvened for the Court of Honor in the church auditorium.

With Judge Thompson presiding, Boy Scout awards were presented as follows: (Continued on page 8)

Mrs. Simpson To Wed Edward In Early May

By MARY FENTRESS
United Press Staff Correspondent

CANNES, France, (Copyright, 1937, By United Press)—It was generally accepted here today that the Duke of Windsor and Mrs. Wallis Simpson, American divorcee, will marry either on the Riviera or at Vienna the first half moon of May.

I found on arrival here from Paris at the coast retreat to which Mrs. Simpson fled while her royal fiance last December abdicated the throne of the British empire for her love, that the marriage was considered definitely settled and only the date and place remained to be set.

DIONNE QUINS KIDNAP THREAT

Extra Police Guards Ordered For Five Famous Sisters

CALLANDER, Ont. (UP)—Extra police guarded the Dionne quintuplets today after purported kidnap threats caused fear for their safety.

The guard was increased from two to five, although provincial police authorities were skeptical of the reported plot to seize some or all of the five girls.

Mrs. Charlotte Suggett, wife of a former police chief told Toronto authorities that she had received a telephone warning last night from a man who refused to identify himself.

He told her, she said, that while riding on a bus from Northern Ontario he heard two men discussing a kidnap plan involving the quintuplets. He hung up when she tried to get further details.

Provincial police at North Bay were notified immediately. Two guards and a special constable were sent to join the two constables regularly assigned to the Dafoe hospital where the babies live.

Lindbergh, now in Egypt with his wife, has obtained permission to fly over Iran (Persia) between February 17 and February 20, it was understood today, and to land at either Bushire or Jask. Cougars Win 2 Games Of Ione Series

C Team Rumps Toward Title; A Quint Runs Strong

It was "a dainty dish" which Coach L. A. Brown and the Cougars set before county basketball fans Friday night in the first series in the interscholastic league following the recent resumption of classes.

The Cougars humbled Ione high school in two games out of three, the A and C teams winning while the Bees bowed before the visitors.

With their 18 to 7 victory over Ione, the C five continued its march toward a district championship and must win only one more of its scheduled two games to be in on the league championship play-off. MacLin was high-point man for the Cougars with 11.

The Cougar Bees took it on the chin, 37 to 26, and looked good even if the score was against them. The Bees have had trouble getting started this year.

The A team game saw Gray score 13 field goals and one foul for a total of 27 points to become high-point man of the year. The score was 58 to 12.

The A five is trailing Sutter Creek by one game and has hopes of finishing in the play-off.

Tuesday night the Cougars go to Jackson and on Friday night, it's Sutter Creek here.

COUNTY LOOP WILL RESUME PLAY MONDAY

El Dorado County basketball league will resume its regular schedule of games Monday night at the high school gymnasium.

Coach L. A. Brown says the league is arranging to make up the two rounds of the schedule which were postponed by the closing of school, and will play one round Wednesday night of next week and another on the following Wednesday night, meanwhile continuing the regular Monday night games.

In the series for Monday night, February 15, the high school and American Legion teams will play the first game of the night. This is a special arrangement so that the Cougars may be sent home for a good night's rest before they tackle Jackson Tuesday night in the CIF league.

TRAFFIC DRIVE IS SPONSORED BY CLUB GROUPS

With a membership comprising prominent executives and community leaders in cities and towns throughout the state, service clubs are uniting in concerted action against the traffic accident problem in California.

Participating in the program are the Rotary Clubs, Lions International, Kiwanis International, Association of 20-30 Clubs, Optimist International, California Exchange Clubs, Soroptimist Clubs, and Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

Initial steps include joint preparation by the two motor clubs of a series of pocket-size folders for service club members, concisely reviewing principal aspects of the accident problem. Efforts will be carried forward for promotion of traffic safety by all members within each club group.

On Thin Ice

The Court Supreme

A European economic history teacher, when recently asked by a student: "What do you think of the proposed Supreme Court legislation?" tactfully replied, "Europe has no Supreme Court; Europe has no freedom."

A study of European history will show that as power is won by a single man or political group, the rights which were once the people's are gradually withdrawn until practically every action is made only with the government's consent or instructions, as the case may be.

Regulation of the United States Supreme Court may well be a step toward the limitation of rights granted by the Constitution. Such legislation would convert the Supreme Court into a blind to be used to whatever advantage the nation's officials might "find necessary." All of which sounds definitely undemocratic.

PARADE OF SPORTS

By HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Writer)

By HENRY SUPER, pinch hitting for Henry McLemore.

NEW YORK (UP)—Yesterday being Lincoln's birthday we devote this space to another emancipator—one, however, whose cry for social justice is only a first affair.

I refer, of course, to Jerome Herman Dean, the Dizzy, No. 1 problem-child of the St. Louis Cardinal plantation. Reports from the front indicate this diamond slave's annual campaign for freedom or more dough is ready to start.

And, after a careful study of past performances, weights and lung capacity of the participants, I think the scrap will proceed along the following lines:

Dizzy, accompanied by his chief-of-staff, Mrs. Dean will arrive in Hot Springs, Arkansas over the week-end from his winter quarters at Bradenton, Florida, there, after opening his contract (terms unrevealed), Diz will call in the press and sound off something like this:

"I'm being robbed. I refuse to pitch for less than $50,000. What do they think I am, a sandlotter? Unless I get what I want, the Cardinals won't win the pennant because they need me in there foggin' 'em over.

Then Col. Sam Breadon and Vice-Col. Branch Rickey will "deny" everything. One of them will let a word slip—probably to the effect that "Dizzy ain't so hot anyway"—and the battle will be on.

Accusations, charges and counter-charges will be hurled over an area covering 23 states. Frankie Frisch will be dragged into it; a couple of players will give their reaction to the situation; Judge Landis will be reported ready to intercede for the good of baseball and finally the Cardinals' batboy and grounds-keeper will be interviewed on the subject.

Along about a month hence, when the Cardinals start gathering for the spring training at Bradenton, Dizzy still will be out of the fold. Everyone will admit they are worrying—because "he really means it this time."

Diz, the Mrs. and the golf clubs, meanwhile, will be camped in Bradenton—but none will be on speaking terms with the Cardinals and their associates. Mr. Dean will play golf daily, and sound off each afternoon at four on the 19th hole. Mrs. Dean will take up a watch on the porch and explain to all the sundry "why we won't play ball unless we get what we want."

Finally, when everyone has become sick and tired of the affair, Rickey, Breadon and Dean will gather at midnight in a cemetery, under full moon and hound dogs baying in the distance, and talk terms.

"I think it's gone far enough this time Diz," Breadon will say. "You know you still are out of condition. How about signing at the old figure."

"Sure, Mr. Breadon," Diz will reply. "I wanted to play all the time but you never gave me a chance to tell my side of the story. I'm in perfect shape and I could whip them Cubs or Giants tomorrow with my left hand. Gimme that paper—where's a pen?"

And Mr. Dean will be a Cardinal for another year.

The act will have a refreshing twist,

BARKLESS DOGS MAKE DEBUT AT LONDON'S SHOW

LONDON (UP)—Barkless dogs made their debut yesterday at Cruft's famous dog show which this year has attracted 4,342 entries.

The dogs without barks are Basenjis. For centuries in Africa they were bred to keep silent while tracking wild game. They are little large than Fox Terriers. Finally the Basenjis forgot how to bark.

Aside from their silence, the Basenjis are notable because they wash their faces with their paws like cats, arch their backs like cats, and generally have a feline appearance. They have not the usual doggy odor. They have sharply erect ears and tightly curled tails. Usually they are chestnut but occasional cream ones are highly prized in the Congo.

Though the dogs do not bark, they growl and make a guttural sort of "groo" when they greet a master or mistress.

AMERICANS IN MALAGA TELL HORRORS OF SPAIN CIVIL WAR

By JOHN DE GANDT

United Press Staff Correspondent

MALAGA, Spain, (Copyright, 1937, By United Press)—Seven months of stark horror in the most terrible civil war of modern history were described to me by Edward Bainbridge Norton, of Memphis, Tenn., formerly of the American consular service, and his wife, Ellen.

Forty-four air raids; warship bombardments; lootings; burnings; executions, a nightmare of hate, during which the American flag protected them, were pictured to me by the American couple.

Norton, a former American consul in Paraguay and Spain, now director of one of the biggest almond export firms, managed to keep his factory—alone of those in Malaga—operating under his own hands instead of those of loyalist committeemen, though he employs 1,500 men.

This is Norton's story: "We saw 44 air raids and had 15 windows broken in our villa but no bombs fell on us. Three times we thought our lives ended when we heard explosions near us. We were frightened, of course; our old villa was terrified and made things worse by shrieking instead of praying.

"When the warships shelled us three weeks ago we lay flat on the ground in our garden for 25 minutes, hearing the shells scream overhead.

"The American government sent ship after ship for us. We preferred to remain, having made our home here, and also because of our many friends. Some of them left us valuable things to keep. We warned them it was a risk and at the same time felt somewhat ought to stand by.

"We had our American flag at the beginning. It was the flag I had when I was a consul in Paraguay and that flag saw a revolution there. When the cruiser Quincy came to Malaga, the captain gave me a second flag. Then the captain of the battleship Oklahoma gave me a third one. I put up all three and the loyalists respected them.

"First the loyalists tried to get my car. I explained I needed it to go to the factory every day. They returned for it several times but I stood pat.

"They also wanted to run my factory for me. I said:

"I will leave if I can not manage my own business."

"I had to fight for it with a dozen committees, using all sorts of arguments and even emphasizing to them if they won they would want help from other countries and should maintain friendly relations with the United States.

"God knows how many people the loyalists killed here! Thousands, surely, in Malaga, including several of our best Spanish friends, none of whom was given a trial.

"One who was hiding in our villa came to me after a time and said he must return home because he was afraid something would happen to his wife and children. He did return—the loyalists took him away and shot him.

"The burning of scores of villas in our neighborhood was a sad scene, too. They picked the finest residences in the Caleta and Limonar district.

"For days we watched columns of smoke from the buildings on the hillside and in the city.

"One day a group of loyalists armed with rifles came and said they wanted to talk important business. I asked them first to put their rifles in a corner. The chief said they wanted me to give them a check for 50,000 pesetas—worth about $7,000. I asked him what it was for. He replied:

"None of your business."

"I told him I was sorry. Then he exclaimed:

"You know we have means of making you sign a check!"

"Alright—go ahead and get it over with quickly," I told him.

"Seeing that I did not show I was scared they went off.

"Visiting Spanish homes it was a different proposition. They frequently shot everybody inside. That is how they assassinated many priests and nuns.

"Frankly I've had enough of war. I don't mind telling you that I am more afraid than ever of air planes."

The silver-haired Mrs. Norton, showing the strain she had undergone, told her story. She said she had been through the Paraguayan revolution and troubles in Costa Rica but nothing like this.

"I was the only American woman who stayed in Malaga during the loyalist occupation," she told me as she showed me around the villa she and her husband bought several years ago when her husband was consul.

"Even our dog had hysterics during the bombardments in our two-foot square shelter in a less exposed place on the ground floor."

HILTON'S TALE "NOW GOODBYE" HELD LACKING

By JACK GAVER

United Press Drama Editor

NEW YORK (UP)—Philip Merivale probably has no peer when it comes to giving a genteel, sympathetic portrayal of a man of 40-odd caught up in an Indian Summer romance with a girl young enough to be his daughter, but his current vehicle, "And Now Good-bye," lets him down. Any financial success which Producer John Golden may have with this venture can be attributed solely to the English star's popularity with the ladies.

The play is an adaptation by Philip Howard of the novel of the same title by James Hilton, the "Good-bye, Mr. Chips" man. As a story, I do not doubt that it had its moments, at least enough to bring a furtive tear or two at the end, but I regret to say that the play left me considerably colder than the weather, which was genuinely winterish at the time. Oh, there was a bit now and then which was effective enough to get the response intended, but the job of writing as a whole is not smooth and most unconvincing. After all, there is nothing to this type of play if you can not believe in and feel for the characters.

Merivale does his best by the Rev. Howat Freemantle, an overworked English clergyman with an annoying wife. One of the few bright spots in his life has been a friendship for a young woman he has tutored. The girl, who has a passion to become a violinist, finally leaves home, bound for Vienna to study, against the wishes of her parents, who believe she has run off with a musician and is living in sin in London. They demand that the minister do something about it, charging that the girl probably got her ideas of freedom from him.

Freemantle goes to London to persuade the girl to repent and return home and is pleasantly surprised to find that the rumors of a lover were entirely unfounded. They become quite clubby, attend a concert and visit a restaurant in Soho that night, and when the time comes to go the minister find that he can't give the girl up. She is leaving in the morning and he decides to make a clean sweep and go with her. But the last act, which is the best, finds him back at his desk, heartbroken because of her death in a train wreck as they were leaving London. No one knows of his effort to run away and, in fact, he is a hero because he saved several lives. He feels he can not carry on and prepares to resign, but after a struggle with his soul he decides that his place is with his flock.

Supporting Merivale are Margaret Anderson, Marie De Becker, Kathryn Collier, Richie Ling, Hilda Plowright, Horace Sinclair, Edgar Kent, Ruth Vivian, Marguerite Churchill, Thomas Bate and Eda Heinemann.

John Saldubehere, Walter Russell and C. Dale Hill have bought 2300 acres of land in Tehama County. The Newcastle Fruit Company, Placer County recently voted a 1½ per cent bonus to all its growers.

JUNE LANG'S POPULARITY AMONG WORKERS NETS NEW WILLYS

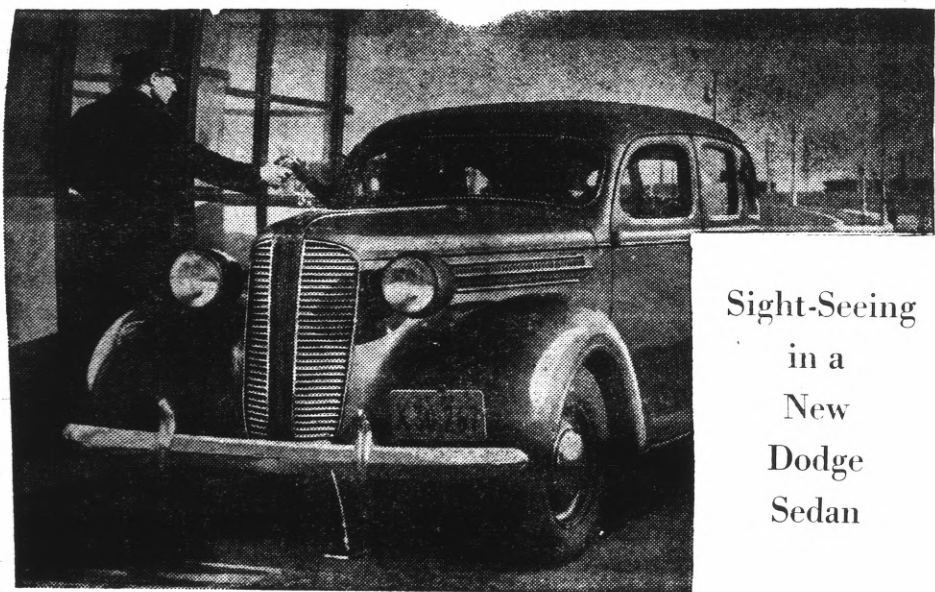

WILLYS - OVERLAND WORKERS BALLOT NEW WILLYS TO JUNE LANG

When employees of the Willys - Overland Pacific Company were recalled to begin production of the Willys "37" at the Los Angeles plant, they cast ballots to determine which motion picture star should receive the first car off the assembly line. Miss Lang, Twentieth Century Fox Star, was chosen by unanimous vote to be the recipient of Willys No. 1 of the West Coast plant and today she is the proud owner of an all-white Willys Sedan, which she drives daily to the studio where she is completing her latest vehicle, "Nancy Steel is Missing."

A NEW CAR THIS SPRING!

Production Passes 25,000,000

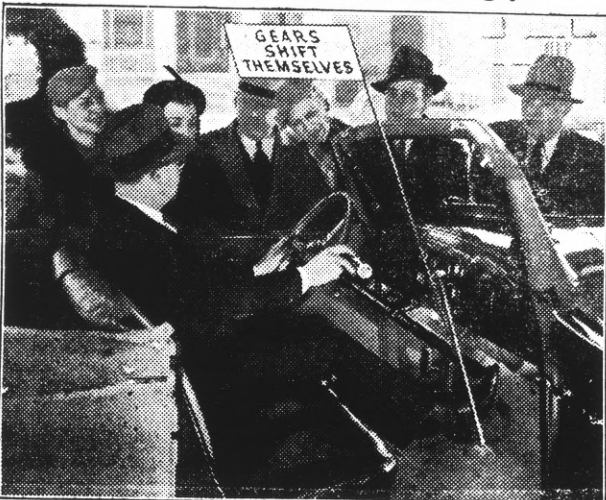

PHOTO SHOWS HENRY FORD (right) and Edsel Ford, President of the Ford Motor Company, with the first and the 25,000,000th Fords in the huge Ford Rotunda at Dearborn, Mich., just after the latest historic Ford car had rolled off the final assembly line at the Ford Rouge plant. Mr. Ford is at the tiller of the first car built in 1896. Behind is Mr. Edsel Ford in the 25,000,000th, a glistening Ford de luxe Fordor touring sedan, with body in cream and wheels in chromium. The building of the 25,000,000th Ford was quietly observed. The Fords drove the car off the line while a small group of newspapermen applauded. Inset: Mr. Ford cuts a huge cake to celebrate the production record. The 25,000,000th Ford was the latest of a long line of historic Fords. The 10,000,000th was built in 1924, the 15,000,000th in 1927, the 20,000,000th in 1931. The 1,000,000th V-8, manufactured in 1934, went to the Chicago World's Fair; the 2,000,000th V-8 in 1935 was sent to the California Pacific International Exposition in San Diego, and the 3,000,000th V-8 built last year was driven to the Texas Centennial Central Exposition in Dallas.

1937 Dodge Panel

This is the new Dodge 3/4-1-ton panel which will be featured extensively this year. It is expected to find unusually wide acceptance among department stores, laundries, furniture dealers, grocers, bakers, dry cleaners and many others that require large load capacity and economy of operation.

"PRESTO! CHANGE-O!"

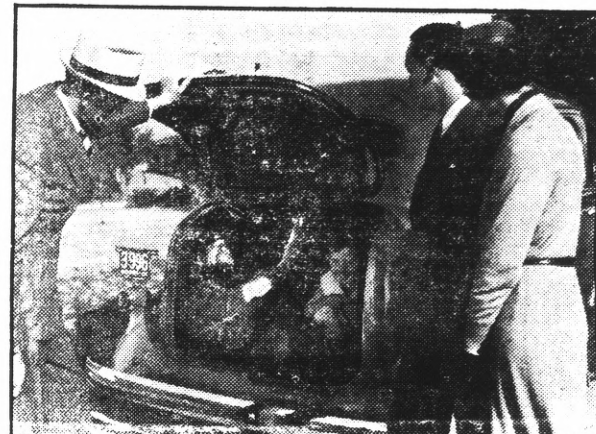

This modern motoring magic was accomplished simply by replacing a gear shift lever in the transmission of a Terraplane equipped with the new selective Automatic Shift.

A "Heavyweight" Climbs Into a Trunk

Certainly the camera man got the right angle to make Andy Heath look Gargantuan in this picture. But Andy is big. He's the caretaker at the Studebaker 500-acre Proving Grounds and he actually weighs 350 pounds. He is about to permit himself to be coaxed into a 1937 Studebaker luggage compartment. We imagine the Studebaker press agent is hanging around somewhere.

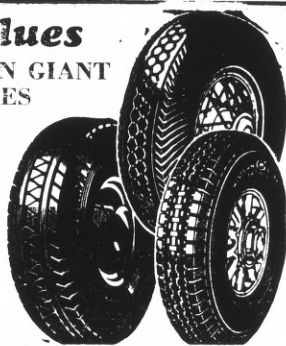

Here is Andy and his son comfortably lodged in the luggage compartment. The press agent won over Mr. Heath's natural modesty, of course. The luggage compartments of the 1937 Studebakers are said to be about the largest to be found in any automobile.

LOS ANGELES, CALIF.: Hudson Eight—22.71 miles per gallon! Terraplane—22 miles per gallon! These are the official gasoline mileage figures established by Hudson and Terraplane in the 352-mile Los Angeles-Yosemite Economy Run. And they are certified by the American Automobile Association. Hudson beat all other Eights. Terraplane topped all other leading low priced cars.

These cars are No. 1, too, in size and all-around roominess... with 117-inch wheelbase in Terraplane, and 122 and 129-inch in Hudson. And 55 full inches of front seat comfort for three... several inches more than in other popular cars.

No. 1 in power... ranging from 96 to 122 horsepower. No. 1 in safety... with bodies all of steel and exclusive Duo-Automatic Hydraulic Brakes. And they give you proof of performance and endurance no other 1937 cars can give you.

Come in, see for yourself. There's a car waiting for you to drive.

REFUGEE CHILDREN PLAY—"This is the way we go to church—" So sang these refugee children who were urged to play games at a high school turned into a home in Memphis, Tenn. The little girl in center is the leader and the others follow her directions. But the boys in the background evidently have no use for silly games like that. Relief agencies are aiding many families in this locality, providing recreation as well as food and clothing.

Supervisor Brown will present the invitation personally to President Roosevelt at the White House next Tuesday and the entire California congressional delegation will join in the ceremonies.

Devote Idle Day Entirely to Beneficial Beauty Care

By JACQUELINE HUNT

DO YOU ever have days when you do not know quite what to do with yourself? Days when an expected invitation does not come, when your husband is away on a business trip, the children visiting, their grandmother or simply a day when you have no urgent tasks and you do not feel like following your usual routine.

Be thankful for such a day and resolve to devote it to beauty. All of you cannot go to a fully equipped salon where you can have everything done for you, but you can spend a perfectly glorious day giving yourself leisurely and beneficial beauty treatments in the convenient privacy of your own home.

Lock the door and pay no attention if the doorbell rings. Nothing should be allowed to disturb your fun. Begin by cleansing your face with cold cream and tissues, then apply a little extra cream and leave it on your skin.

Slip into an old bathing suit or pair of shorts, spread a quilt or heavy rug on the floor and go through some snappy exercises for strengthening your abdominal and back muscles and for keeping your hips slender and shapely. Try this one:

Sit on the floor, then lean back, placing your hands behind you. Plant your feet firmly on the floor and lift your mid-section off the mat. Try to keep your back arched slightly upward and about 15 inches from the floor. Now swing to the left and down, thumping your left hip on the floor; swing back to position and down—three times.

Arch your back again and swing to the right and down, thumping your right hip on the floor—three times, back to the left and so on as long as you feel like it. This is a splendid exercise, since it uses the muscles of the shoulders, upper back, abdomen, flank, back and thighs.

Now sit like a Turk with your legs crossed, your arms out at your sides shoulder high. Lean backward slightly, lifting your bent knees off the floor so your weight is supported on the plumpiest part of your hips. Rock from side to side vigorously, alternately raising one hip and then the other from the floor and bending in the opposite direction each time with your shoulders. This is a splendid exercise for filling out hollows and reducing over-fleshy hips.

What else do you need? If your hair can stand a good reconditioning treatment, massage the scalp brush vigorously, then part the hair vigorously in small sections and apply warmed reconditioning oil or a mixture of olive oil, castor oil and enough pine oil to give a pleasant odor. Wrap a hot towel around your head and pin it securely in place. Leave it there while you bathe.

Turn on the water in your bathtub and add a big handful of fragrant bath crystals or a special bath milk preparation to give you a sense of luxury and relaxation. Slip into the caressing water and rest with little pads dipped in cooling eye lotion over your eyes. Rest there for twenty minutes, or as long as you want to, then rinse off with tepid water, dry and massage your body from toes to shoulders with a soothing body lotion.

STATE RULINGS IMPEDE FLOW OF CROP MARKET

WASHINGTON (UP)—A multiplicity of state laws dealing with fruits and vegetables impedes the flow of perishable products across state lines, according to A. Wells Sherman of the bureau of agricultural economics.

Sherman urged co-operation between produce dealers and growers to obtain state laws and regulations which will facilitate interstate trade in fruits and vegetables.

Many state laws dealing with the grading, branding, inspecting and packaging of fruit and vegetable shipments go far beyond anything which is required by federal law, Sherman said.

"State action should apply only to intrastate business or to those products of the state which are not yet under interstate billing," he said. "The jurisdiction of the state in purely economic matters which do not involve public health, pest, or disease control or fraud misrepresentation, begins only when the goods are offered for sale within the state, not when they reach its borders."

Sherman said many state officers have exceeded their authority at border stations to compel dealers to brand, mark, grade or describe incoming products in accordance with the laws of the state into which they are moving.

"Since these products are in interstate trade," Sherman said, "they are subject only to the laws of congress, except as the states may examine for the purpose of enforcing quarantine or public health measures."

BAER TO LEAVE SOON TO START TRAINING GRIND

SACRAMENTO (UP)—Max Baer and his manager, Ancil Hoffman, will go to New York next week to apply for licenses and begin training for a match with Bob Pastor in Madison Square Garden, March 19.

Matchmaker Jimmy Johnston telephoned Hoffman, saying everything was set for the proposed fight and he was sending transportation money to Hoffman immediately. He expected the New York State Athletic Commission to approve the match and Baer's application for a license to fight in the state.

Although Baer has done considerable barnstorming and participated in exhibitions, his scheduled fight with Pastor will be the first important match for the ex-champion since Joe Louis knocked him out. Pastor back pedaled to stay 10 rounds with Louis recently. Hoffman said Baer was in good condition and was training with his brother, Buddy, in Oakland.

Orders Dinner By Short-Wave Radio

BOSTON (UP)—When Mrs. Ray Jones of Winthrop hears her pilot-husband broadcast "To Boston. Within range," she knows it's time to start supper.

Jones is first pilot of the American Airlines on the New York-Boston run. To notify airport officials that he is within five-minutes of landing he broadcasts "To Boston. Within range."

Mrs. Jones and her two children listen by short wave radio, and when they hear the father's familiar voice they know he will be home in a few minutes.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Benson were in town from Summit section on Saturday.

AIR TRAVEL IN 1936 INCREASES BY 73 PER CENT

WASHINGTON (UP)—Eugene Vidal, director of the bureau of air commerce reported commercial airline operators carried 1,020,931 passengers in 1936, largest total for any year in history and an increase of 73 per cent over 1935.

The airlines flew 63,771,226 miles and carried 6,958,777 pounds of express during 1936, both representing new records.

At the same time a new record for aeronautic exports from the United States was established in 1936.

Aircraft, engines, parachutes, parts and accessories with a total value of $23,055,761 were shipped abroad.

This was 60.9 per cent over the 1935 figure and 31.4 per cent greater than the previous record year of 1934.

considered by many to be the country's greatest living architect. The structure is low, streamlined and has two horizontal bands of glass tubing encircling the building. These provide the illumination in a manner never before attempted.

Daylight enters the building through these glass bands or from skylights overhead. Artificial illumination comes from these same bands so that regardless of the method there are never any shadows.

Inasmuch as the entire office building is air-conditioned winter and summer, none of the glass in these horizontal bands is designed so that it can be opened.

YOUTHS LURED BY ADVENTURE FIND TRAGEDY

ROUEN, France (UP)—Youngsters the world over are susceptible to the wanderlust, which sometimes becomes so strong that they cannot rest at home. It was this desire that led two 16-year-old youths to two accidents and a suicide.

Living in the poor mining town of Northern France, Epreville-sur-Fecamp, they tired of the dreary winter weather and the poverty of their homes and decided that they were going to go to the sunny land of Provence, France's winter Florida. After some weeks of saving, they accumulated only 14 francs, and became so impatient that they could not wait.

Stealing a motorcycle from one of the villagers, they started out for adventure. But after less than 50 miles they ran into a ditch and continued on foot. Having stolen the motorcycle, they could not think of returning to their home. Tired and weary, with hardly any money left, they reached Havre. In desperation they stole a motor car and continued on their way. Again fate stood in their way, and both were badly injured when their car struck a tree.

They hobbled to the nearest farm and were given some food and treatment, but the farmer was so suspicious of their incoherent tales that he phoned police. In a few hours they were on their way home in the car of their uncle, filled with terror at the punishment that awaited them for their escapade. Suddenly there was a shot and one of the two boys slumped to the floor of the car, having fired a bullet through his head.

The final presentation of the evening was made by Judge Thompson personally, paying tribute to a Placerville business man who for many years has served the Boy Scouts of El Dorado County. It was a 15-year veteran's pin, presented to the former District Boy Scout Chairman, M. T. Kelly.

The pin is of gold, of lapel size, and bears a Boy Scout insignia surmounted with the Roman numerals indicating the years of service.

Thomas Maul then introduced the speaker of the evening, Dr. Dexter, whom, Mr. Maul said, had spoken in Placerville previously before civic groups.

Dr. Dexter is well-known to members of the Lions Club, having served as District Governor for that order and being now Second Vice-President of the International Association of Lions Clubs.

Prior to appointment as executive secretary to Governor Merriam, he was president of Whitier College and recently was named state superintendent of public instruction.

Dr. Dexter's remarks were addressed chiefly to the boys in attendance, whose interested attention he commanded throughout the evening.
